

DETECTIVE

I could do this all day buddy. Your mind games and rambling won't do you any good here, because I already know what happened and how this plays out. We had the substantial evidence necessary to put you away and a witness report before we even rounded you up. This whole session right now all the back and forth is just a formality really. I just wanted to see your face when you realized that we'd crack your code. We got you and your partner. It's over.
