

SEASONED DETECTIVE

You're not special you know? Tyler has five other guys just like you, even more if you count the people hire up and what's worse than that is there's hundreds, maybe thousands of others just like you and that's just this district. No telling how many knucklehead kids out there running around ready to believe in nothing. Ready to go to war over something that's not even theirs. I've seen this same things play out so many times. Sometimes I'm sitting where you are but it might as well be the same person sitting across from me every time. (BEAT) You can be one of the few people who do the right thing.
